

Theme: BUSY HERE AND THERE

Memory Verse: John 9:4 “I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.”

Texts: 1 Corinthians 7:29-31; Isaiah 6:8

As long as we are busy here and there we cannot successfully carry out the order of our King and Commander. Our commission is to go and sensitise the men and women on the life’s highways to the danger of their condition. We must search every nook and cranny to gather in as many souls as we can before the close of day. Every believer should remember that there is a time to do this work. Time is running out. And yet, Christ is calling still. “So those servants went out into the highways” (Mathew 22:10).

Servants of the heavenly King must, in obedience to God’s command, go. They must go to the children and tell them about the risen Saviour. They ought to labour among the youth to keep them from corruption. We have to refocus men and women whose hearts have been sold Mammon; go to the hospitals and minister physical and spiritual healing to the sick, speak to the hopeless and helpless and show them the great help and the bright hope in Christ, the Lamb of God. They must let all men on the highways of life know that by the grace of God, all is now ready.

The evangelism field is wide. The possibilities are immense. As God’s commissioned servants plunge into the field, they can rest assured and rejoice in the Saviour’s promise that says, “and lo I am with you always, even unto the end of the world,” The founding fathers of the Christian faith who went in obedience to God’s command had great success. If we go to the highways today, the same risen Saviour will accompany us and the same experience that the early believers had will be ours. Do you want to see God’s hand and power upon you? Then, get up, gird up your loins, go out to the field sand declare to the world the gospel full and free.
